In Conclusion...

The Best Gift for our Admirals

If parents want to give their children a gift, the best thing they can do is to teach their children to love challenges, be intrigued by mistakes, enjoy effort, and keep learning. That way, their children don't have to be slaves of praise. They will have a lifelong way to build and repair their own confidence.

NEUROPSYCH — OCTOBER 29, 2022

Parents: Don't focus on happiness, help build resilience instead

Parents want the best for their kids, but resilience helps children better cope with life's unavoidable challenges.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

● Because parents want what is best for their children, they often put too much focus on their happiness. ● But happiness emerges from resilience, which helps children regulate difficult emotions and stressful situations. ● Resilience is not a fixed trait. It's a skill parents can help children develop.
